Figure 3: This is a correlation matrix which excludes all categorical data from the Life Expectancy Data-1 data set. The dark red colors indicate a positive or strong association between certain variables, while light pink/white colors indicate negative or weak association between certain variables.